Abstract

High rate of employee turnover is continues to be a serious problem for businesses in many organizations world-wide. High employee turnover in the construction and properties industry is unavoidable aspect..Encorp Berhad is not excluded for the above matters.

This model theorizes a linear or straight line relationship between the dependent variables which is job turnover and the independent variables which are job satisfaction, organizational commitment and employee commitment. Therefore, this study is a conceptualized to determine the nature and degree of the relationship between these independent variables with job turnover.
